Mrs. McKittrick's Relatives Contest Will-She Left $8.000.

The contest over the will of Mary Mc-Kittrick was heard before Surrogate Fitzgerald to-day.

Charges were made that the will was a forgery, and if not a forgery, then its execution was obtained by undue influence, and that at the time of making it Mrs. McKittrick was of unsound mind. Mrs. McKittrick had been married three times and was a widow at the time of her death, on Feb. 27, 1899. Her esiate valued at $8,000, was bequeathed to her cousin, Terrance McDonnell, of 540 Broome street. The contestants are a number of nieces and nephews and Mrs. McKittrick's two sisters, none of whom is mentioned in

The Surrogate refused to adjourn the hearing and the trial proceeded. Coun-Progress sel for one side examined witnesses to prove that the will was executed in conformity with the law and denounced the charges of forgery as utterly without foundation.
Surrogate Pitzgerald admitted the will to probate and taxed the cost on the contestants.
